Closing with a smile...

Puns by Karthik Narayanan, London

A NASA rocket scientist and Batman were both so eager to know the Truth that they took a sabbatical and went to the Himalayas. A few months later they both returned enlightened. Intrigued by this, both were invited for an interview. Of course they were both asked the most obvious question: “How has your life changed after enlightenment?”

The rocket scientist turned philosopher responded: We think human evolution is all about Man in Space but it actually is about Space in Man.

Batman turned philosopher responded: After enlightenment I realized Batman just needs to Be-Atman.
